

Staten Island-Based Community Educator

Job Summary: Day One seeks a dynamic full-time Community Educator based in Staten Island to join our Training Department. The Community Educator will deliver preventive and informative workshops on teen dating abuse in schools and youth-serving spaces to young people in grades 6 through 8, school-based staff, youth-serving professionals, and parents/caregivers. The Community Educator will deliver Day One's teen dating abuse prevention curriculum throughout Staten Island, conduct outreach, attend professional development opportunities, and link young people and families to resources that aid in prevention of intimate partner violence.

About Day One

For over twenty years, Day One has been the only organization in New York devoting its full resources to preventing and responding to intimate partner and other forms of gender-based violence among young people. Day One partners with New Yorkers 24 and under through preventive education, supportive services, legal advocacy and leadership development. Our multi-disciplinary approach brings together a highly collaborative staff with expertise in legal assistance, social services, and education service provision. Through the Training Team, Day One educates young people in schools and youth programs about gender-based violence equipping them with the skills they need to build equitable, peaceful consent-driven relationships. Day One recognizes that anti-violence work is emotionally demanding and professionally complex. We strive to create a workplace culture that invests in the wellness of staff and leads to employee sustainability through an adaptable work setting and highly collaborative environment. The person assuming this role must be comfortable working both in-person and virtually.

Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Conduct community outreach and awareness activities throughout Staten Island;
- Build and maintain relationships with schools, community-based organizations, and government agencies throughout Staten Island;
- Build and facilitate healthy relationships curriculum addressing dating abuse, gender, relationship stereotypes, consent, coercion, and more to youth in middle school, their caregivers, school staff, and other youth development professionals;
- Respond to and coordinate workshop requests with school staff and community-based representatives;
- Assist in the development of materials and workshops for use in the Training Department and across the organization;
- Assist in tracking program data through the use of Salesforce and other data collection and measurement tools;
- Maintain a flexible schedule, allowing for early morning, evening, or occasional weekend workshops or presentations;
- Help create and maintain a diverse, equitable, and inclusive workplace and learning environment, and commit to principles combating racism and gender inequality; and
- Other duties as assigned and needed.

Qualifications

- At least two years of relevant experience or a Bachelor's Degree with at least one year of relevant experience;
- Experience facilitating training, workshops, and/or other educational opportunities for young people;
- Demonstrated ability to engage young people in conversation about gender-based violence;
- Emerging and/or established understanding of the nuanced dynamics of intimate partner and other forms of gender-based violence and the systems to dominance and oppression that sustain this violence;
- Ability to work with diverse groups of youth, including lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and gender-nonconforming youth; immigrant youth; youth in care; and/or low-income communities;
- Comfort working within New York City public schools, and demonstrated ability navigating the challenges and opportunities that school-based work presents;
- Experience with communication and learning management tools such as Zoom, Microsoft Office, Google Suite, Slack and Canva; and
- Ability to work independently and in a collaborative setting;

Salary and Benefits: Salary range is $55,000-$58,000, depending on experience and language capacity. Day One offers a benefits package that includes health, dental, vision, 401(k) with match, life insurance, flexible spending accounts, and generous paid time off.

Application Process: For consideration, please send your resume and a cover letter as a single document to jobs@dayoney.org with "Staten Island Community Educator" in the subject line. We regret that only applicants considered for the position will be contacted by Day One.

Day One does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, national origin, age, military service eligibility, veteran status, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, or any other category protected by law. We are genuinely committed to these principles of equity and inclusion, which are core to our organizational culture and our approach to service. To truly make a difference, we must ensure that our staff, partners, volunteers and supporters reflect the communities in which we work.

Don't meet every single requirement? Studies show that women and people of color are less likely to apply to jobs unless they meet every single qualification. At Day One, we are dedicated to building a diverse, inclusive and authentic workplace, so if you're excited about this role but your past experience doesn't align perfectly with every qualification in the job description, we encourage you to apply. You may be the right candidate for this or other roles.